

SUMMARY

In his essay the author critically surveys the traditional (metaphysical-scientific) and everyday conception of time; following the analyses of Augustinus he attempts to create a non-metaphysical concept of time.
